Our Immigration System is BROKEN.

And America Needs a Realistic, Comprehensive Solution to Fix It.

America relies on millions of hardworking immigrants to clean, build, feed, and care for our country.

But we all agree that our immigration system is broken. Our laws are outdated and unenforceable and there are few orderly, legal channels for immigrants to work in this country.

Unfortunately, the U.S. House of Representatives passed an unworkable enforcement-only immigration bill that will only make the problem worse.

But the Senate has a chance to develop a comprehensive solution that creates a controlled, legal process for immigration, secures our borders, reunites families, and provides immigrant workers an earned path to citizenship.

The Senate must lead the way to real reform. Because our economy, our businesses, and our communities depend on it.
